(54) PREPARATION OF SHEET IMPREGNATED WITH LOTION CONTAINING POWDER

(57) Abstract:

PURPOSE: To prepare the titled rational and effective cosmetic containing a coating tool integrated with the cosmetic, by applying a powdery cosmetic to the surface of a porous sheet, cutting and folding the sheet into plural sheets, and impregnating the sheets with a liquid cosmetic.

CONSTITUTION: A powdery cosmetic, e.g. talc powder, silicic anhydride powder, calcium carbonate powder, containing zinc flower, is applied to the surface of a long porous sheet, e.g. nonwoven fabric, gauze, paper or thin foamed polyurethane sheet, and the resultant sheet is then cut in the longitudinal direction and folded. Plural sheets of the folded sheet are then placed on top of each other and the resultant accumulated sheets are impregnated with a liquid cosmetic by the pressure impregnating method or dipping method, to give the aimed sheet impregnated with the lotion containing powder.

EFFECT: Separable into small portions, convenient for portable use, producible continuously and inexpensive.

USE: Products, e.g. for sunscreen or care for sunburn in the summer, and medicines for the remedy of inflammation.
